This Intellectual Property Policy addresses the ownership and use of the Climate Change and Food Security Association's (the "Association") intellectual property. This includes logos, publications, and other materials created by the Association.

I. Ownership

all intellectual property rights, including trademarks, copyrights, patents, and trade secrets, developed by the Association or for its benefit, are the sole and exclusive property of the Association.

II. Use of Association's Intellectual Property

The Association's intellectual property may be used for the Association's purposes only, unless otherwise authorized in writing by the Association. This includes, but is not limited to, use in publications, presentations, and educational materials.

III. Third-Party Use

Any request to use the Association's intellectual property by a third party must be submitted in writing to the Association for approval. The Association reserves the right to deny permission for any use it deems inappropriate.

IV. Protection of Intellectual Property

The Association will take all reasonable steps to protect its intellectual property rights. This may include registering trademarks and copyrights.

V. Disclaimer

The Association does not warrant that the use of its intellectual property will not infringe upon the rights of any third party. It is the responsibility of the user to ensure that such use is lawful.

VI. Amendments

This Intellectual Property Policy may be amended by the Association's Board of Directors at any time.
